

Main financial table with multiple columns containing stock codes, prices, and changes. Includes a small chart in the top left corner.

Secondary financial table with columns for various data points, likely related to the main table above.